INTRODUCTION.

---

HOUSEWIFE'S EXPENSE BOOK (formerly "Housewife's Red Book," revised and improved) is designed to provide a complete but simple System of keeping household accounts, and to plainly show for what purchases the money goes. Seeing this, the prudent housewife can alter her plan of purchasing so as to secure the best results with the least expense.

An account of Receipts is as important as an account of Expenses; so a daily record of Receipts for the whole year is provided—see pages 4 and 5.

Sixty weekly tables of disbursements are given—pages 6 to 65 inclusive—providing for five weeks (or parts of weeks) in each month. These tables show Disbursements in numerous details, providing for every usual expense.

The book is completed with two full page tables showing the first and second half year's total Disbursements in detail—pages 66 and 67. These totals may be compared with the total Receipts during the same periods.

The System plainly shows the character and extent of small leaks which aggregate LARGE LOSSES, and points out excesses in some lines which may be easily corrected, and SAVE MUCH MONEY.

M. C. G.

GUIDE.

RECEIPTS.

1. Enter each sum received in the space provided under the proper date on page 4 or 5. At the end of each month, add all the receipts of the month and enter the sum under "Total."

DISBURSEMENTS.

2. Enter all sums spent in the Week's Table (pages 6 to 65) on the proper lines.

3. At the end of the week, add the sums paid for each article and enter the total on the same line in the "Total" column. Then add the sums in the column and record the week's total expense at the bottom.

4. Also enter at the bottom of the Week's Table in the space specified, the total money received during the week. Subtract the week's total expense from this sum (or vice versa) and enter the difference in the specified place.

5. At the end of each month, from January 1st to June 30th, enter the Totals of your different expenses in the proper month's column in the First Half Year's Table, page 66. Then add the items and place the sum at the foot of the column. This will show your total expenses for the month.

FIRST HALF YEAR.

6. At the end of June add the amounts on each respective line of the First Half Year's Table, and place the sum of each on the same line in the Total column at the right—to show the total amount each item mentioned has cost during the first half year.

7. Enter in the spaces at the bottom of this Table the total of all money received in the first six months; also your total disbursements for the same time; subtract the smaller from the larger amount and record the difference in the space so named.

SECOND HALF YEAR.

8. Record in the same way, during the second half year, your monthly expenses in the Second Half Year's Table, page 67.

9. At the end of the year, add and record in the "Total" column at the right of this table the amount spent for each article during the last six months. Add to each of these amounts the corresponding total for the first half year, and enter their joint sums in the Year's Total column at the extreme right of the table.

THE YEAR'S COMPARISON.

10. Finally, at the end of the year, record the totals of money received and disbursed in the second half year exactly as stated in paragraph 7 for the first half year. Add these and the totals for the first six months and record their sums in the space provided at the right bottom corner of page 67. Here your YEAR'S TOTAL RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS APPEAR.
